GRADE PUPILS GOOD SPELLERS

TEST CONDUCTED IN GREENCASTLE SCHOOLS RETURNS HIGHER AVERAGE IN ALL BUT TWO GRADES THAN THE STANDARD FIXED BY PROMINENT EDUCATOR—SAME LIST OF WORDS USED IN ALL GRADES.

GIRLS EXCEL THE BOYS

Grade pupils of the Greencastle schools are better spellers than the standard that has been fixed for them by a prominent educator of the United States. This fact became known today when superintendent Henderson gave out the results of a spelling test that recently was conducted in each of the three wards of the town. A list of seventy-two words was given to the pupils of the third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades. The list was compiled by Prof. Ayers, formerly of Columbia University, who at present is connected with the Russel Sage foundation of New York City, and has been used in hundreds of schools throughout the country. From the results of the tests given with the words, Prof. Ayers fixed a standard, and this is now being used by school officials to determine the efficiency of the work being done by the pupils under their supervision.

Only in the third and eighth grades of the Greencastle schools did the pupils fall below the standard. The fifth grades of the three wards made the largest increase in their grades over the standard. The average record made in each of the grades in the local schools and the standard fixed by Prof. Ayers are shown in the following table:

Grade	Average	Standard
3	49.5	50
4	77	73
5	80.3	84
6	94.9	92
7	96.9	96
8	97.4	99

Another interesting result of the test is that only in the third grade of the first ward, and the sixth grade of the second ward, were the boys able to make as good grades as the girls. In all other grades the girls led.

The words included in the test follow:

Eight, afraid, uncle, rather, comfort, elect, aboard, jail, shed, retire, refuse, district, restrain, royal, objection, pleasure, navy, fourth, proper, judge, weather, worth, contain, figure, sudden, forty, instead, throw, personal, rate, chief, perfect, second, slide, farther, duty, intend, company, quite, none, knew, remain, direct, appear, liberty, enough, fact, board, station, attend, between, public, friend, during, through, police, until, madam, truly, whole, address, request, raise, August, Tuesday, struck, getting, don't, Thursday, September, population, everything.

The test is considered to be a very great aid to the teachers in determining the efficiency of the work being done by their pupils in comparison to that being done in other grades and schools. It is also said to be a big incentive in interesting the pupils in learning how to spell correctly.

FIRST ARGUMENTS IN TAX CASE TO BE HEARD FRIDAY

Judge Hughes has set Friday as the date for the hearing of the first arguments in the case of county officials against the Phi Psi fraternity of DePauw for non-payment of taxes. The trial is to determine whether or not county Auditor Joe M. Allen will be mandated to place the fraternity property on the tax duplicates after having been exempted for ten years.

FRANK WALLACE IS NEW CLOVERDALE SCHOOL HEAD

Frank Wallace, of Fillmore, was elected superintendent of the Cloverdale schools for the next school year at a meeting of the school board held in Greencastle Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Wallace will succeed Professor Vaughn, who will resign from the teaching profession. Members of the school board are Louis Morrison, W. E. Gill and A. R. York.

SIGNS OF SPRING

Mr. and Mrs. Spring Showers and all the Little Showers, who are apt to be heard patterning around any time, are expected to arrive in Greencastle soon now that Miss Joyful Spring has officially put in her appearance. Besides the Showers family, other well known friends and relatives of the perennial favorite are supposed to be in hiding close by, ready to make their appearance at any time. Among the most notable of these are the following:

The Zephyr Sisters, Miss Mild Spring Zephyr and Miss Soft Spring Zephyr, who never speak above a whisper; Mme. Spring Fashion, who is by no means unknown to Greencastle ladies; Sir Inthespringa Youngmansancy; Miss Bloom-inthespring Flowers; Sir Spring Tonic and Miss Sassafras Tea, the dainty little pink-checked sister.

Two later arrivals will be Dandelion Greens and Miss June Wedding. However, their belated arrival is not expected to detract from their popularity of former seasons. Miss June Wedding already has several engagements on her social calendar, while Dandelion Greens has already been sighted as he makes ready for his visit.

FIRE DAMAGES RESIDENCE OF E. CALLOWAY

DEFECTIVE FLUE STARTS FIRE THAT ENDS WITH VIRTUAL DESTRUCTION OF SOUTH GREENCASTLE HOME—HAD GAINED GREAT HEADWAY—DISCOVERED BY NEIGHBORS.

INSURANCE COVERS LOSS

Fire virtually destroyed the residence owned by Elmer Calloway, on Berry street, near the Vandavia passenger station just before noon Tuesday. The blaze was started from a defective flue, and had gained great headway before it was discovered by neighbors. When the fire department arrived the entire roof of the house was a mass of flames.

The firemen had great trouble in saving any part of the building, but finally succeeded in checking the blaze after all of the upper part of the building had been burned, and a large portion of the lower part had been charred and damaged.

The house was a double structure of eight rooms. It was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Calloway and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fisher.

Insurance was carried on the house that will cover most of the loss. No insurance was carried on the household goods, but the greater part of these were removed from the building before they were damaged.

The annual opening of the Thomas Buggy Co. will be held at its salesrooms on South Jackson street on March 31 and April 1. Thirty representatives of out-of-town companies will be here to assist the local firm in displaying its wares. The opening is expected to be the most pretentious even held by the buggy company.

W. F. Jamison, whose residence on Fox Ridge was destroyed by fire Saturday afternoon, has received payment in full for the loss from the company carrying the insurance. The building was insured for $800.

Miss Harriet Bridges is visiting her sister, Miss Sallie Bridges, at Indianapolis.

Mrs. George Gibson is visiting her sister, Mrs. G. L. Newby, of Indianapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Sample, who spent the past year at Pasadena, Cal., returned to Greencastle today.

POWER OF PRESS INVOKED TO AID STATE PARK FUND

INDIANAPOLIS, March 18.—The power of Indiana newspapers in civic affairs is to be put to a test by the state park memorial committee of the Indiana Historical Commission in raising a fund by public subscription for the purpose of making a beginning in a state park system which is to be perpetual memorial of the first centennial of Indiana statehood. A letter has been sent out to practically every newspaper in Indiana asking that the papers join forces with several other organizations in the movement, and each paper is authorized to receive subscriptions for the park fund.

The letters to the newspapers were sent by Governor Ralston, as president of the Indiana Historical Commission; Charles W. Fairbanks, president of the Indiana Forestry Association, and Richard Lieber, chairman of the state park committee. It said:

"We are asking the newspapers of the state to join with us in developing the outstanding feature of the Indiana Centennial year—the formation of a system of state parks. This is to be the lasting memorial to which all of the celebrations this year will be directed. The state parks are to be a memorial to the people of this day can pass on to those who are to follow.

Forces Are Gathered

"The mighty force that we are endeavoring to bring behind us includes the newspapers, to show their power in Indiana civic affairs; the centennial committees, both state and county; the Indiana Federation of Clubs, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Hoosier State Motor Club, and through this amalgamated force we expect to make the state park movement a big and lasting success.

"As a foundation upon which to build the system, the plan contemplates a scenic tract in northern Indiana one in central Indiana and one in the south part of the state. We hope from this beginning that a large number of other parks can be added in counties where there are scenic tracts or historic buildings to be preserved. Our memorial committee will carry the project as far as it can this year, and through a developed public enthusiasm ask the next legislature to complete it.

Turkey Run First Unit

"Turkey Run, in Parke county, is being taken up as the first unit in the state park system. This wonder of glens, rocky gorges, waterfalls, trees, flowers and birds, is a part of the Lusk estate, and it is to be sold on order of the Parke circuit court May 18 to close the estate. If Turkey Run passes into the hands of timber speculators, the magnificent trees will be cut off and the place ruined for park purposes. To acquire, and save for the people of Indiana the scenic wealth of Turkey Run will mean the beginning of a great and lasting public work."

The park committee has opened its headquarters with the Historical Commission, at room 80, State House. A joint committee of about 100 members of the Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce is being organized to support the movement in Marion county, and commercial organizations throughout the state will be asked to name committees to work with park centennial committees in their home counties.

Dr. S. Parks Cadman, pastor of the Center, Congregational Church, of Brooklyn, will be the commencement speaker at DePauw University this spring. Dr. Cadman is considered by many to be the most eloquent preacher in the east, and the senior class is being congratulated upon being able to secure him for the commencement address.

Mrs. E. G. Shouse read the paper before the regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U., held at the home of Mrs. Asbury Manuel Tuesday afternoon. The subject was, "The Influence of Foreign Immigration on Our Moral Standards." A general discussion followed the reading of the paper.

Parke Dunbar, of Indianapolis, and Walter Dunbar, of Worthington, Minn., are here for a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Dunbar. Walter Dunbar is a graduate of the university with the class of 1887, and is a civil engineer.

WOULD HAVE STATE MEET HELD HERE

DePAUW STUDENTS AND ALUMNI URGE ATHLETIC OFFICIALS TO BID FOR STATE HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT NEXT YEAR—HIGH SCHOOLS DISSATISFIED OVER ACCOMMODATIONS AFFORDED BY STATE UNIVERSITY.

TRAIN FACILITIES ARE POOR

As the result of dissatisfaction of high schools throughout the state over the poor accommodations afforded by Indiana University for the state basketball tournament recently held at Bloomington, DePauw University students and alumni are said to be urging the athletic officials of the local school to place a bid for the tournament in 1917. As yet the DePauw athletic board has taken no definite steps in complying with the request, but it is believed that the time is propitious, and that negotiations will be opened with the high school athletic officials in due time.

The main reasons for complaint from the high schools are three fold. In the first place Bloomington is difficult of access for most high schools because of its location, and because of poor transportation facilities. Many teams have to leave for Bloomington on Thursday in order to get there in time for the opening games on Friday. In the second place, many citizens of Bloomington and students of the state university are said to have "scalped" the tickets for the games, and in this manner either forced the visitors to miss them or pay from two to five prices for admission. Lastly, the gymnasium facilities afforded were poor, only about 1,500 spectators being able to witness the contests.

It is pointed out by backers of the local high school that Greencastle is easily reached by three railroad systems, and one interurban line, which afford connections with virtually all of the principal lines of travel of the state, and that the new DePauw gymnasium will accommodate fully 1,000 more people than can be crowded into the playing quarters at Bloomington. Even if the new Indiana gymnasium is completed by next year it is claimed that more room would be available here because there would be fewer college students and townspeople who would be present to witness the tournament. Whether or not local students would "scalp" tickets would, of course, depend upon the system of seat sale adopted.

The following except from the Kokomo Tribune is representative of the feeling that now exists over the state in regard to holding the high school classic at Bloomington:

"The treatment accorded the visiting fans was not the best and the accommodations at the gymnasium were very poor. The gymnasium would not hold more than 1,500 people, and not nearly all those who managed to get on the inside could see very much of the games in progress. And then one of the best sections of seats were reserved for the Indiana athletes and time and time again, fans were ordered to move to make room for the men who should have been the hosts. J. H. Shrock, of Lafayette, and president of the State High School Athletic Association Board, was one of the men ejected from this section, and that action caused considerable comment among the visitors. The university men, realizing that the action of reserving this section was wrong, threw the section open to the public for the Saturday afternoon and evening games.

"Many fans from other towns were deprived of seeing many of the games and they naturally were keenly disappointed. The carelessness in handling the ticket sale was responsible for a number of the pasteboards getting into the hands of scalpers. As a result, season tickets, which were sold originally for seventy-five cents, were secured by many people who were compelled to pay four and five dollars. Careful management would have avoided this objectionable feature, and left a more favorable impression with many of the visitors."

COMMISSION HALF DONE IN RECOUNT OF BALLOTS

Ballots cast in twenty-eight of the thirty-four precincts of the county at the recent primary election had been canvassed by noon Thursday by the election commission named to recount the votes cast for the Democratic candidates for sheriff and treasurer, following the contesting of the election by Ed Eiteljorge and James Hurst, defeated candidates. It was stated by the members of the commission that the work probably will be completed by Friday noon, at the latest.

SPRING USHERED IN MONDAY EVENING

The sun crossed the equator at a point not far from the position which Jupiter has occupied in the late afternoon skies, at 5:47 Monday afternoon, eastern time. This event marks the beginning of spring. The insertion of an extra day, February 29, has brought spring a day earlier than usual on the calendar.

PROHIBITION PLAN BIG DEMONSTRATION

GENERAL SECRETARY OF WORLD'S CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIETY SECURED FOR STATE CONVENTION—DISTRICT CONTESTS ARE ARRANGED.

PARTY IS VERY MUCH ALIVE

INDIANAPOLIS, March 22.—A great interdenominational young people's prohibition rally for all young people's societies in the Indianapolis district will be a feature of the Indiana State Prohibition convention to be held in this city June 6 and 7. The big meeting will be held in Tomlinson Hall on the first night of the convention, and plans have been launched for filling the great auditorium to the doors.

The speaker for the monster demonstration will be William Shaw, of Boston, General Secretary of the World's Christian Endeavor Society. The city's most popular musical organization, the Indianapolis News Newboys band, has been secured for a half-hour concert at the big meeting in Tomlinson Hall.

Steps will be taken at once to inaugurate a spirited contest between the united societies of the Epworth League, the Christian Endeavor Society, the Baptist Young People's Union, the Young People's Alliance of the Evangelical Association, and other young people's societies in the Indianapolis district, for the purpose of getting out the largest possible representations from these organizations. An invitation will also be extended to all young people's organizations within a radius of fifty miles from Indianapolis.

Reports received at Prohibition state headquarters in this city show that the prohibitionists in all parts of the state are getting ready for the most strenuous campaign in the history of the party. During the past two weeks rousing county conventions have been held in the eighth and twelfth districts, at which full county and legislative tickets have been placed in the field and full delegations chosen to represent these districts at the state prohibition convention.

The Clarions, who are touring the state under the directions of the State Prohibition Committee, continue to arouse great enthusiasm in every county they visit. Last week they covered the counties in the twelfth district, and although this section has never been considered as prohibition territory, reports indicate that there has been a decided increase of sentiment in favor of prohibition since the last state campaign, and a big gain in the party vote is confidently expected this year. J. Raymond Schmidt, chairman of the State Prohibition Committee, has attended a number of the recent conventions.

Charles Ewan is enlarging and improving his residence on Bloomington street, with the purpose of converting it into a flat.

LAWYERS OPPOSE A JOINT CIRCUIT

LOCAL ATTORNEYS DO NOT AGREE WITH BRAZIL BARRISTERS THAT CLAY AND PUTNAM COUNTIES SHOULD AGAIN BE JOINED AS JUDICIAL CIRCUIT—SAY BUSINESS IS EXPEDITED AT SMALLER COST.

EIGHT CASES ON MONDAY

Greencastle attorneys were almost unanimous today in disagreeing with the agitation that has been started by lawyers of Brazil to have Clay and Putnam counties joined into a joint circuit court. The local barristers say that under the present arrangement court business is expedited, and that to join the counties would work hardships both on the attorneys and their clients.

The main basis for the contention of the Clay county men is that court business has fallen off, and that a joint court could well take care of all cases that come up. It is pointed out here that much business is transacted by the local court that does not come to trial and that just because it would appear that few jury cases are tried is no reason for merging the Putnam court with another.

It is also claimed that the present arrangement is more economical for the tax payers of this county. The only saving that a joint circuit would effect would be in the salary of the judge, less than $100 of which is paid by the county, while many times this amount is saved in jury salaries.

As evidence that there is plenty here to keep the court busy it is pointed out that last Monday was the busiest day that has been experienced since the Putnam court was organized. Eight cases were disposed of during the day. Little publicity was given the fact, but just the same the court was busy all day. While Monday was fuller than most days, there is never a week passes out that the local court disposes of many cases, even if a majority of them do not come up for jury trial.

If the mines of Clay county do not furnish the court business that they once did, as is claimed by the Brazil lawyers, it may be well for Clay county to be joined with some other county, but for Putnam to be chosen would be an ill advised move, according to the local court attaches.

A Birthday Surprise

On Sunday, March 12th, Mrs. DeHick Neese was given a birthday surprise at her home three miles north of Poland, Ind., it being her sixty-third birthday. By the time the noon hour had arrived, forty-nine relatives, neighbors and friends had gathered at her home with baskets of good things to eat. After all had enjoyed eating of the bountiful dinner, there was some to spare. The afternoon was spent with music, songs and a good social time. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Neese and sons, Adam and Paul; Rev. Evans and family; Mr. and Mrs. George Neese and daughter, Ruth; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Semmeyer and family; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evans; Mr. Charles Evans and little son, Robert; Mr. Levi Neese and family; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Phillips and son, Carter; Mr. and Mrs. Verlin Cassidy and son, Robert; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cagle and family, of Poland; Mr. and Mrs. Luther Neese and daughter, Ruth; Walter and Ora Neese, and Anice and Lee Bullerdick.

Circuit Court Notes

The will of the late John W. Walsh has been filed for probate by attorney Charles McGaughey, of Roachdale. The will names the widow, Mrs. Ella B. Walsh, as executrix of the estate, and directs that she receive all of it during her lifetime. Upon her death the estate is to be divided equally between two children.

The Citizens Trust Company, of Greencastle, has been appointed receiver in the case of James I. Nelson against William S. Parker and others for the foreclosure of a mortgage on a farm in Russell Township.

What Thomas Buggy Co. of Greencastle

have to say about cream separators this week

All Highest Prize Butter De Laval Made

THE most important butter scoring contests have been held in conjunction with the National Dairy Show in Chicago. The first prize winners at every contest of the Association since its organization in 1892 have been as follows—all De Laval separators.

1892—Louis Bräbe
1893—C. W. Smith
1894—E. C. O'Rourke
1895—Thomas Milson
1896—H. N. Miller
1897—Samuel Haupt
1898—A. W. McCull
1899—H. T. Sondergaard
1900—E. O. Quivold
1901—L. J. Dunsbury
1902—L. S. Taylor
1903—J. C. Josiah, World's Fair, St. Louis, Grand Prize Butter
1904—A. L. Lohblad
1905—J. C. Post
1906—A. J. Anderson
1907—Albert Camp
1908—A. J. Anderson
1909—A. L. Rodde
1910—J. N. Peterson
1911—Thomas Sadler
1912—E. J. G. O'man

There were no national contests in 1913, 1914, 1915.

When you use a De Laval Separator you not only get more cream but better cream as well

THE best evidence of this is that during the last twenty-five years butter made from De Laval separated cream has invariably scored the highest at all important contests and state fairs. Practically all the cream entered in the International Milk and Cream Show held in connection with the Panama-Pacific Exposition, was separated by De Laval, and every first prize, and most of the other prizes, were won by De Laval separated cream.

These facts are simply further proof of De Laval supremacy in everything that goes to make a good cream separator. Don't buy any separator until you give us an opportunity to let you see and try a De Laval. We will be glad to send one out to your farm on trial any time you say. Just phone, send a post card, or call and we will be glad to give you all the information you wish.

Sooner or later you will buy a
DE LAVAL

FARM LANDS—FOR SALE

I have for sale an 80 acre farm 1/2 miles west of Spencer, on pike road. A good frame house; farm well watered and otherwise desirable. Also 45 acres, 1/2 mile east of the above, 25 acres of which is bottom land. Will sell the two tracts together or separately. If purchaser makes small payment cash down can have his own time for deferred payments. An excellent opportunity for a young man having moderate means and who is willing to work, to obtain a good farm.

APPOINTMENT OF TAGGART MEETS UNIVERSAL APPROVAL

(By Willis S. Thompson)

INDIANAPOLIS, March 21.—The appointment of National Committeeman Thomas Taggart, as United States senator to succeed the late Benjamin F. Shively, will meet with more universal approval, from all the people of Indiana, than has any single important act of Governor Ralston since he took office as the chief executive of this state. This is said with a full appreciation and understanding of the fact that there never has been another state administration responsible for so many constructively progressive and popular achievements as has been that of Samuel M. Ralston and his official associates.

There was never any doubt in the mind of anyone, when the fact of the senatorial vacancy became known, that the appointment would be tendered to Mr. Taggart, and the only doubt about his being the next United States senator, and the certainty that he would be elected in November to serve the balance of the unexpired term, was the willingness of Mr. Taggart to accept. It was feared that the magnitude and importance of his business interests in Indiana might prevent him from assuming public duties so important, and which will be certain to consume so much of his time.

While no man could easily turn aside from the honor attaching to the office of United States senator, it is well known that Mr. Taggart has not sought the place at any time in the past, and that he has not done so now. When he has been urged to allow the use of his name, and at times when the certainty of his election seemed unquestioned, he has declared himself in favor of others, and remained in private life, working for the party candidates, contributing freely of his time and money to bring and hold Democratic success. Even if he wished the honor in times past he has not let the fact be known to his most intimate friends, and has apparently found his greatest pleasure in seeing others honored.

Mr. Taggart has not held a public office since his third term as Mayor of Indianapolis, to which he was elected in 1899. He had been first elected in the office in May of 1895, and in that campaign the Indianapolis News, which was even then opposing him most bitterly, brought President Harrison into the contest to try and prevent Mr. Taggart's election. It was declared that "A Taggart victory will be interpreted as a rebuke to Harrison," or words which meant the same. Taggart led his ticket by 2,000 votes, and not a Republican was elected.

The day following the election these editorial utterances indicating the Taggart strength, appeared in the Indianapolis News: "The most skillful manipulation, and even the advice of Mr. Harrison could not stop it." And further "this result is to be accounted for on the ground of Mr. Taggart's great personal popularity, both inside his party and out. By temperament kindly, genial, affable, without grudges and enmities, a happy faculty of winning political friends. It is not improbable that the Democrats would have been successful against any candidates whom the Republicans could have nominated."

For twenty years since the same thing has been said of Thomas Taggart by those who know him. His popularity has grown with the years. The same Indianapolis News, which has continuously opposed Mr. Taggart in whatever he has undertaken in business or politics published another editorial about him in October 1914, nineteen years after the one quoted. In this last editorial the editor said: "There are few men in Indiana who have a greater asset in their personal qualities and characteristics than Mr. Taggart. He is widely popular, stands high in business relations, is a kindly disposition, true to his friends in personal relationships, etc."

The last time Taggart was elected mayor, in 1899, after the Indianapolis News had opposed him through two terms, resorting to their favorite practice demanding grand jury "investigation" to prevent his election in the third campaign, making no charges of any wrong he had done, the day following his election that newspaper said "Taggart could not have been elected if Republicans had not been display to their party candidate." And the next day this: "The official count settles many things. One, that Mayor Taggart is elected. Another that he got more votes than he did two years ago. The third that there was no fraud."

So much for the testimony of the most bitter and unfail opponent any man ever had. Since 1899 he has been the recognized leader of his party in Indiana, and an influence in the National party councils that has been most valuable. At the Denver convention in 1908 he was at the head of the Indiana delegation, and brought the second place of the ticket to John W. Kern. While the National ticket was not successful in that year, the direct work of Mr. Taggart was largely responsible for the election of Thomas R. Marshall, as governor, and the assurance of a Democratic legislative majority.

After the election, Kern and Shively became rival candidates for United States senator. At that time members of the legislature insisted upon Thomas Taggart becoming a candidate urging that his name would unite the party, and also believing his unselfish services to the party entitled him to the honor. He declined, and both Kern and Shively being his personal friends, he took no active part in the contest.

When the National Convention met in Baltimore in 1912, Mr. Taggart went with the Indiana delegates to make Mr. Marshall the party's presidential candidate, and this fight resulted in Marshall becoming the running mate of Woodrow Wilson. While Bryan fought both Marshall and Taggart vigorously on the floor of the convention, and while there were times when the Indiana delegates insisted upon deserting the cause as hopeless, Taggart made it a personal matter for them to stay with him, and they won. Again he allowed no mention of his name as a senatorial candidate, and saw Kern made senator, Marshall made vice president, and Samuel M. Ralston made governor, and the whole Democratic ticket elected.

In 1914, when the term of Senator Shively expired, the Democratic state convention was determined to nominate Thomas Taggart. Not that there was opposition to Senator Shively, but because the delegates were in earnest in declaring that the honor this time should go to the man who had been heaping political honors upon others, and who was more than any other responsible in a purely unselfish way for repeated party successes. Mr. Taggart prevented his name coming before the convention by going so far as to declare that any man who presented his name must forfeit his friendship. Then he had the resolutions committee include a paragraph naming Shively unanimously, and the close Taggart friendship for Benjamin F. Shively had kept down even murmur of contest.

Today, he has accepted the appointment, there is no man in Indiana who will make a better United States senator, and none who can add more to the Democratic majority for the whole ticket in November. No one appreciates this more fully than does the opposition. The things said of Mr. Taggart and his popularity twenty years ago, are ten fold more true today.

BIRTH RECORDS AN ASSET

(By the Indiana State Board of Health)

It would be hard to exaggerate the importance to mothers of having complete legal records made of their baby's birth. A former citizen of the United States, now resident in a Canadian city, has suffered the loss of all his property and undergone financial ruin, because of the neglect of his parents, and the physician attending at his birth to make legal record of the occurrence. He had a German name, and was confronted in Canada with the necessity of proving his American citizenship. He sent a frantic appeal to the health officers of the town where he lived, asking for a transcript of his birth certificate, which would, of course, prove that he was a native born in America. Had the doctor at the time of his birth registered the birth as the law commands, the situation would have been a simple one. But careful search of their records failed to reveal any such registration, and as a result, he has been interned, for the Canadians say, they can trust only those in free citizenship who can give proper proofs of their birth and standing. Two young men are now interned in England because they cannot produce legal evidence that they were born in America. In a letter to the State Board of Health, one of these young men gave his opinion in strong terms of the doctor who had failed to make legal record of his advent into the world. A mother who applied to the State Board of Health for a transcript of the birth certificate of her child to prove its legitimacy, broke down and cried bitterly when she was told that her physician had failed to make out a certificate of birth, and see that a legal record was made. All the bitter words she poured out about that physician would hardly be fit for printing. She said "I never dreamed I would be caught in such a predicament." The State Board of Health exhorts all mothers to see to it that a legal record be made of the births of their children. If a physician or mid-wife in attendance at a birth fails to make out a birth certificate within thirty-

D. C. M'INTOSH OF GREENE COUNTY

Candidate for State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

THE Democrats of the Second district are asking that County Superintendent Daniel C. McIntosh, of Greene county, be nominated for State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

First—Because his fifteen years of experience in country schools, town schools, teacher and principal in high school and county superintendent, together with twelve weeks in the Indiana State Normal School, two years in the Indianapolis College of Pharmacy, five years in Indiana University and special work with Purdue, have fitted him for the duties of this office.

Second—He has taken an active part and made a special study of all the movements for industrial and rural advancement.

Third—He has the friendship of all the private and public institutions of the state which stand for progress and betterment, as well as the endorsement of many of the leading educators of the state.

Fourth—The Second district has no other candidate for state office and the nomination of Superintendent McIntosh will add strength to the ticket not only in the Second district, but with school men all over the state.

six hours, their bill for services becomes invalid, and they are liable to a fine of ten to fifty dollars. If any mothers who read this article fear that their baby's birth was not legally recorded, they should write to the State Board of Health, giving name and postoffice address of mother, date of birth of child, place of birth and name of attending physician. The State Board of Health sends a present to all first mothers if their baby's birth is duly recorded.

CENTENNIAL NEWS LETTER

"The Birth of the State"

After months of planning and negotiation, the Indiana Historical Commission is pleased to announce the George Ade idea of the movie picture presentation of the history of Indiana, featured as "The Birth of the State," is rapidly approaching realization. The enterprise has been assisted by responsible citizens of Indiana prominent among them is Robert L. Ber, of Indianapolis, who are working in close co-operation with the commission. They have incorporated under the name of the "Interstate Historical Pictures Corporation." The contract for the arranging of the scenario and its corporation in film, has been let to the Selig Polyscope Company of Chicago, one of the three or four really great producing companies. Considering the fact that Indiana is the first state in the Union to feature its Centennial year, the Selig people will "lay themselves out" to get the best moving picture possible. With four or five state following Indiana in rapid succession with Centennial anniversaries, it is up to the Seligs to set a new mark for the Indiana film.

The Chicago manager, H. C. Howell, has been in consultation with the commission relative to the scenario and word has been received from him that it is practically complete. The proposed film production of the state of Indiana, if advance information proves accurate, will follow closely the wake of history where it touches FACTS, but it will also weave into the story many beautiful legends in which the history of Indiana is so rich. The pictures will be taken "the spot," and Indiana's historic places will be faithfully reproduced, according to the plans of the men who are producing the picture.

The scenario will be submitted to the Indiana Historical Commission for approval within a very few days, and if favorable action is taken by it, the camera men, the movie actors and actresses, and all their paraphernalia will be "on the ground" taking the pictures. It is expected that the Indiana film will be ready for presentation by the time of the beginning of the county celebrations, the first of which occur in May.

Ade's Booklet Ready for Press

"An Invitation to You and Your Folks from Jim and Some More of the Home Folks," is the name of the booklet which George Ade, chairman of the state committee on Home Coming, has prepared, and which is ready for the press. The message of greeting and invitation which it contains from "Jim" and a galaxy of Hoosier celebrities are personal and most appealing, and are destined to make the Ex-Hoosiers everywhere fairly ache for a glimpse of the home land and home folk.

James T. Denny has been named as the Putnam county representative of the international "League to Enforce Peace," of which former president W. H. Taft is the head. The league does not propose to attempt to end the present European war, but will try to bring about a world state when the present war has run its course. It presents an attempt is being made to have the Democratic and Republican national conventions endorse the plan for world peace by force of arms. Mr. Denny probably will call a meeting here some time in the future for the purpose of interesting the local public in the project.

The L. C. Albin public sale, held Wednesday, was well attended, and good prices prevailed. Cows sold as high as $115.00, horses $190.00, and pigs $46.00, and stock hogs, 12 cents a pound.

1—Guaranteed
to make better baking of every kind.

2—Guaranteed
to make more baking per sack
than any other flour.

Valier's Enterprise Flour may cost a few cents more, but it makes so much more baking per sack that it actually saves you money. And it really does make better baking of all kinds. One sack will prove this to you. Ask your grocer for it.

CAUTION

Wheat, nearly everywhere, this season was badly damaged by rain. Only a few sections which had favorable weather, grew big grade wheat. By sending our own men to these sections and paying premium prices we got high grade wheat for our mill. We absolutely guarantee that Valier's Enterprise Flour is made of the highest grade wheat this season, as in the past, and that it will give you the best possible baking results. Try it.

An 8-foot Spread From a 45-inch Box

IN the Low Corn King catalogue it takes pages to tell about the good construction that backs up the "8-foot-wide spread from a narrow 45-inch box." Here the space is limited.

See the spreader and study these things: The simple worm and worm gear which drive the apron can be reversed, doubling the wear qualities. The gear is entirely enclosed, away from dust and dirt. The relation of beater and apron is just right to do the best work on the manure with the least power. Low Corn King is a steel spreader—frame, beater axles, wheels, driving parts—all of light, strong, compact steel. You return the apron by a convenient foot lever—no hand cranking, no getting down from seat.

These things—remember—back up the even, satisfactory 8-foot-or-better wide spread. Get acquainted with the Low Corn King spreader. See the local dealer who sells it.

PRINCIPLES OF SUCCESSFUL CLOVER GROWING

Give the clover a chance to make a healthy plant by adding lime, phosphorus, and potash to soils that need them. In some way add vegetable matter to the soil, and keep up the supply by turning under clover often enough.

Give the seed a fair chance by placing it in mellow soil and covering it from one-half to one inch deep.

If sown with a nurse crop, give the young plants a chance by not seeding the grain crop too thickly, by top dressing with manure if practicable, and by cutting the stubble as high as possible.

OBITUARY

William E. Williams, son of John W. and Elizabeth J. Williams, was born at Putnamville, Ind., August 12, 1883, and departed this life, March 14, 1916, at the age of 32 years, 7 months, and 2 days.

William contracted tuberculosis when about six years of age, his suffering was intense, and of long and constant duration.

Yet he was always very patient, and so, often would say, "It might be worse." A favorite quotation, which he had clipped and placed in his new testament reads, "Patience is the flower of a perfect faith."

Although he never identified himself with any church, yet he gave his relatives the assurance that he was trusting in his Lord and Saviour, and was ready to meet the summons of his Master.

He was a member of the Order of Red Men, of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and a Free and Accepted Mason.

He read his Bible much, and his new testament through four different times. He was well versed in the sacred word.

He confided to his sister that he had prayed all night, and that while he felt his body slipping away, he was more and more assured of the eternal home of a future life beyond. His five sisters are Mrs. Will Rush, of Brazil, Mrs. James M. Hurst, of Cloverdale, Mrs. Thomas Bridges, of Putnamville, Mrs. J. Walter Cooper, of Greencastle, Mrs. Harry Talbott, of Greencastle, and one brother, Mr. John Williams, of Greencastle.

He was a man of exceptional memory, and while in the employ of his company in Terre Haute, was a most efficient and valuable man.

He suggested many of the arrangements for his own funeral, and selected as his funeral text, Rom. 14:8, which reads as follows: "Whether we live, we live unto the Lord; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord; whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's."

This chosen text indicates a complete reliance on God. He had no doubt contemplated many things, that had he been well he would no doubt have been glad and wished to have completed, but the grim reaper summoned him into the divine presence, with his partly gathered sheaf. He rests free and his works do follow him.

The following poem is most appropriate at this time:

Not now, but in the coming years,
It may be in the better land,
We'll read the meaning of our tears,
And there, sometime, we'll understand.

We'll catch the broken threads again,
And finish what we here began;
Heaven's will the mysteries explain,
And then, ah them, we'll understand.

We'll know why clouds instead of sun
Were over many a cherished plan;
Why song has ceased when scarce begun;
'Tis there, sometime, we'll understand.

Why what we long for most of all,
Eludes so oft our eager hand;
Why hopes are crushed, and castles fall,
Up there, sometime, we'll understand.

God knows the way. He holds the key.
He guides us with unerring hand;
Sometimes with tearless eyes we'll see;
Yes, there, up there, we'll understand.

The funeral was conducted by A. M. Hootman, at Putnamville, on Thursday, at 10 a. m., followed by appropriate services by the Masonic Order.

Revival at Barnard

Rev. J. H. Moore, of Seymour, will begin a revival meeting at the Barnard Christian Church, Monday, night, March 27th.

TO MANUFACTURE AND DISTRIBUTE STOCK REMEDIES

PROMINENT PUTNAM COUNTY MEN PURCHASE RIGHT TO PLACE SHOVER STOCK REMEDIES ON MARKET—WILL OPEN OFFICES HERE—RECOMMENDED FOR CHOLERA.

PURCHASE PRICE $23,000

Announcement has been made of the formation of a company here for the purpose of manufacturing and distributing a line of stock remedies, the formulas for which formerly have been owned by O. D. Shover, a Putnam county man. The organization includes among its members several influential farmers of the county, including Fred Lancaster, Robert O. Dills, Lane Brattain, and William Dills. They will operate under the name of the Lancaster, Dills, Brattain and company.

It is the purpose of the new company to do a national and even international business with the products. As soon as the project has been placed all under way, extensive offices will be opened in Greencastle. Persons who are familiar with the plans of the company say that the business will grow to be one of the largest if not the largest in the community.

Stockholders in the new company have given $23,000 as the price that was paid to Mr. Shover for the formulas and the exclusive right to manufacture and distribute the remedies. Mr. Shover formerly did a small business with the products, but has never undertaken to place them on the general market.

It is claimed that the remedies absolutely will prevent and cure hog cholera, and it is upon this claim that the new company will base its campaign of advertising. The remedies are also said to be excellent stock conditioners. Testimonials from farmers in this and other counties will be given as evidence that the remedies will do everything that is claimed for them.

Notice of Final Settlement of Estate. Notice is hereby given to the creditors, heirs and legatees of Rutha Bee, deceased, to appear in the Putnam Circuit Court, held at Greencastle, Indiana, on the 3rd day of April, 1916, and show cause, if any, why the FINAL SETTLEMENT ACCOUNTS with the estate of said decedent should not be approved; and said heirs are notified to then and there make proof of heirship, and receive their distributive shares.

BURRIS RESIGNS FROM ELECTION COMMISSION

W. S. Burris, of Cloverdale, who on Saturday was named by Judge James P. Hughes to serve as a member of a commission to recount the ballots cast in the recent primary election for the Democratic candidates for county sheriff and treasurer, has resigned from the position. Illness in his family, which makes it necessary for him to be at home a great deal of the time was given by Mr. Burris as the reason for his resignation.

Isaac Peck, of Greencastle, was named by Judge Hughes late Monday afternoon to serve in the place of Mr. Burris on the election recount commission. Ed Eiteljorge and James Hurst, candidates for sheriff and treasurer, respectively, who contested the election, agreed upon Mr. Peck and recommended him for appointment.

NOTICE OF FINAL SETTLEMENT OF ESTATE.

Notice is hereby given to the creditors, heirs and legatees of Richard M. Garrett, deceased, to appear in the Putnam Circuit Court, held at Greencastle, Indiana, on the 27th day of March, 1916, and show cause, if any, why the Final Settlement Accounts with the estate of said decedent should not be approved; and said heirs are notified to then and there make proof of heirship and receive their distributive shares.

MOTOR THIEVES PLY PROFESSION

FORMER GREENCASTLE RESIDENT AND CLOVERDALE MAN HAVE CARS STOLEN IN INDIANAPOLIS—F. M. LYON MACHINE IS TAKEN, BUT IS LATER RETURNED.

NO TRACES ARE FOUND

A former Greencastle resident and a Cloverdale man were the victims of automobile thieves in Indianapolis on Friday and Sunday. In each instance the thieves made a clean getaway with the machines, and no clues to their identity have been found by the police.

A third person, F. M. Lyon, had a car taken in Greencastle Sunday night but the machine was later returned. It is believed that the latter theft may have been the work of persons who did not intend to retain the use of the car permanently, but who only wanted to take a little "joy ride."

Regarding the theft of an automobile belonging to Henry Ostrom, Jr., of Indianapolis, a former Greencastle man, the Indianapolis News says:

"Creators of women's fashions have nothing on Indianapolis automobile thieves. The style designers generally make it necessary for milady to have new millinery, shoes and gowns every season. The motor thief is also doing his best to force the automobile owners to buy a new car with every change of season.

The light automobile of Harry Ostrom, 2238 Ashland avenue, was stolen Friday afternoon from near the Ohio street entrance of the Denison hotel. The car was in the Ohio street parking space reserved by the police, but Ostrom had not locked the machine, as was his custom.

Less than four months ago another automobile belonging to Ostrom was stolen from in front of English's theater. Ostrom had driven to the theater and had entered with his family. When he returned, about ten minutes later, to lock the car, it had disappeared.

And now Ostrom's new car that he bought to replace the first one stolen, has disappeared, and the police have no trace. So Ostrom figures on buying cars with the change of seasons, which is an expensive proposition."

A Ford automobile belonging to Clyde A. Hurst, of Cloverdale, was stolen at Indianapolis Sunday when he and a party of friends left the machine on the monument circle. Mr. Hurst and his friends arrived in Indianapolis about noon, and left the machine on the circle a few minutes while they went to get lunch. When they returned the machine was gone. The police were immediately notified, but no trace of the missing automobile has yet been found. Mr. Hurst purchased the machine only a short time ago.

The Lyon automobile was taken from in front of Rosa Bower on South College avenue about 9:30 o'clock Sunday night. The car had been left there for a short time by Glen Lyon and some college friends. At ten o'clock the machine was missed, and a search for it was instituted. It was later found at the corner of College avenue and Berry street, about two squares south of the place where it had been left. It was at first believed that some of Lyon's intimate friends had moved the automobile just to frighten him, but later investigation did not implicate any of these persons.

A CANDIDATES LIFE IS NOT A VERY HAPPY ONE

All candidates filed their statements of campaign expenses before the primary election, but there are many things included in the strenuous campaigning of political aspirants which require no public statement. A candidate however, comes forward with a summary of the other duties incidental to the canvas of his territory.

This is the way he makes a clean breast of it:

Shook hands 23,475 times; lied 2,887 times; kissed babies 126 times; asked about wife and family's health 2,136 times; helped cut wood, 3 cords; husked corn, 7 bushels; toted buckets of water for women, 14 times; helped feed the stock 27 times; pulled fodder 34 bundles; milked cows 13 times; tossed dollar to baby, 14 times; bit by dog 7 times; asked by farmers to take a drink 16 times; refused 0 times; cost of repairs of watch broken by baby, $2.—Bloomington Star.

NOTICE OF ADMINISTRATION.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been appointed by the Judge of the Circuit Court of Putnam County, State of Indiana, Administrator of the estate of Edward Everitt Hammond, late of Putnam County, Indiana, deceased.

Said estate is supposed to be solvent.

Dated this 4th day of March, 1916.

ROBERT W. DAY,
Administrator.

Harry W. Moore, Clerk.
3 Weekly, March 10th.

Frank Allen and Ewing Shields, of this city, have been awarded a contract for building 22 miles of concrete road near Danville, Ill. The work is to be completed within two years, and the contract price is $145,000. Mr. Allen has sub-let the Putnam county road work he has under contract to Hurst & Sweet, and will devote his entire time to the Illinois work. He probably will move his family to Danville after the close of the school year.

Husband and Wife Both Saved from Suffering

I wish to tell you the good results myself and husband received from Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. About eleven years ago I had a severe attack of La Grippe and was confined to my bed about eight weeks under the doctor's care. He pronounced my case kidney trouble and rheumatism and not receiving the results from the doctor's treatment I should have received, I decided to try Swamp-Root. After taking several bottles of Swamp-Root I was able to get up and attend to my work. About a year later my husband was affected with a severe attack of kidney trouble and doctored for some time with the doctors and received no benefit. Knowing of the good I had received, he decided to try Swamp-Root. His condition was such that he was confined to his bed and words cannot tell how he suffered, but after taking Swamp-Root he was relieved so he could go on with his work without pain. I wish to heartily recommend Swamp-Root to all persons afflicted with kidney and bladder troubles and you may publish this letter if you wish.

Yours truly,
MRS. A. E. BRIGGS,
Eldred, Pa.
Sworn and subscribed to before me, this 25th day of May, 1912.

Letter to
Dr. Kilmer & Co.,
Binghamton, N. Y.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You.

Send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample size bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the Greencastle Daily Herald. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

SHORTAGE OF PAPER: SAVE WASTE MATERIALS

Secretary Redfield, of the United States Department of Commerce, has issued a warning throughout the country calling attention to the need for saving all waste paper and rags. The shortage of paper material in this country is becoming alarming, and the government is making an effort to encourage the saving of all waste materials.

By saving all old paper, and rags, selling or giving them to some person who derives a revenue from gathering them, the people of this community will be following a worthy course. Such a plan would be recommended to those who need it, and it is assisting in the effort to relieve the conditions that exist in manufacture of paper. The waste paper of the streets and lawns of the town also would be made more beautiful.

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

(By Willis S. Thompson.)

INDIANAPOLIS, March 22.—This is surely a year of troubles for James Eli Watson, who can spend $1000 in a primary campaign and make it look like $160,000. He goes into the race for the senatorial nomination with Hugh Thomas Miller. He looks like a real winner. Then Miller "gets sick" and drops out of the race. Harry S. New, the man who helped Charlie Fairbanks and Joe Kealing and Jim Watson wreck the Republican party in the Indiana primaries, and in the Chicago convention of 1912, comes in to torment Watson. Somebody got out some mean circulars about James Eli the day before the primary. Watson says New did it. Anyhow they beat Watson. Then Watson gets roasted in some newspapers and it makes him sore. He writes a letter and proposes to throw Marion county out of the state convention and says he is going to contest with New for the nomination. That makes everybody mad.

The next day there occurs a vacancy for a short term in the senate and Will H. Hays becomes the candidate. Then Watson decides to oppose Hays. Charlie Fairbanks knows something about Jim Watson's powers in a convention. So he yanks Hays into a corner and tells him some things. Among these things is that if Hays fights Watson then Watson will go to Chicago and kill the Fairbanks boom dealer than a salt mackerel. So Hays retires in disorder and Watson will be on the ticket for the short term.

But here again Thomas Taggart enters the contest as the Watson opponent. Everybody is awfully sorry for James Eli Watson when they think what Thomas Taggart is going to do to him in November. Really it is too bad; for you know that while James Eli Watson is a Republican, and the greatest standpatteer in the state, otherwise he is not a bad sort of fellow. To make his outlook even more humiliating than it might otherwise have been, the two big Republican clubs of Indianapolis, the Columbia and the Marion Clubs—have hoisted their slates, and on the senatorial voting spaces are "New for the long term, Taggart for the short term."

This is publication for the Watson suggestion that Marion county should be excluded from voting in the Republican state convention. But why should Republicans worry about the nominees on their ticket, who are simply entered at the outset as November also-rans.

The vote of the state wide primary has been officially tabulated by the state board of canvassers composed of Attorney General Ivan E. Stotsenburg, Secretary of State Homer L. Cook, and State Treasurer George A. Buttler. An analysis of their results is most encouraging to the Democratic party of Indiana.

As has been pointed out before, the Republicans have seldom spent much money in a national election as they spent in this primary campaign. At least $750,000 was used by the various candidates, and the interests that supported them, including the part taken by the state central committee. There were no less than five polls taken of all the important counties. There were pollbook holders at all the polling places on election day representing the important candidates. Pages of advertising were used in newspapers for months.

Watson, New, Goodrich and McCray had headquarters and workers in all important counties off some time preceding election day. "They sent out hundreds of thousands of letters and tons of printed circulars," according to their own press agents. All these things must have cost "hundreds of thousands" of dollars. The estimate of $750,000 is conservative.

To offset this, the Democrats did practically nothing. Leonard Clore engaged one room at the English hotel which was nothing more than a place at which to take care of a limited correspondence and prepare what little advertising he used in the newspapers. He had no organization. John A. M. Adair carried his headquarters in his hat. Part of the time was spent at Washington attending to his official duties as a congressman. The balance of his time was spent in making speeches in the state and his expenditures were limited to the cost of travel and the few ads he printed, a single insertion in a few newspapers. No other Democratic candidates spent anything.

The Republican press has had much to say about Fairbanks, who had his personal organization, getting more votes than Wilson, who did not even have a representative in the field. With the advantage of the $750,000 spent to get out the Republican vote, and not a cent spent by the Democrat for this purpose, Fairbanks received exactly 176,178 votes, and Wilson 160,423. The difference was 15,755. If the Democrats had spent $750,000 against the $750,000 of the Republicans, Wilson would have had the majority.

But there is another showing in the same vote. With Fairbanks and Wilson at the head of their respective tickets, Fairbanks was 32,865 votes behind the combined votes of the Republican candidates for governor. Wilson was 692 votes ahead of Adair and Clore. Yet this is Fairbanks' home state. No wonder John Adair tells the people what a splendid majority Wilson is going to have in Indiana this year.

There is still another comparison that must not be overlooked. The names of Goodrich, who spent a fortune to get the nomination, and of Adair, who had nothing but his personal traveling expenses, were each at the head of their tickets as the candidates for governor. Goodrich had 123,342 votes, and Adair had 116,831 votes. The Goodrich thousands of dollars, including an expensive organization, no headquarters and not even a campaign manager to look after his mail.

The Republicans are surely welcome to all the consolation they can draw from these figures and they know what is going to happen to them when the voters get busy in November.

The record of Democratic efficiency in every office in this state house is a thing no Republican can answer on the platform or in the press.

THE CRACK SALESMAN

I went to Johnson's Jimcrack Shop, to buy a whistle and a top. Now, Johnson has a salesman new, who draws far more than others do; he's said to be the smoothest guy that ever made his victims buy. Old Johnson thought his trade was panned; he wasn't handing out the junk as fast as he would see it go; "I guess," he said, "I'm old and slow; I'll hire a salesman up to date, and he will put the business straight."

So he engaged this flossy lad, and paid him many a shining seal.

And, as I said I sought the store to buy a top and maybe more. When I had bought the things I wished, and from my jeans the coins had fished, the salesman said, "Now, Mr. Wax, just let me show you our carpet tacks." With bow and beck and wheedled smile he led me then across the aisle, and sold me forty seven pecks of copper headed carpet tacks, for which I had no earthly use; and when I struggled to break loose, the salesman said, "One moment, please, just let me show you our whiffletrees."

He sold me seventeen of these; what use have I for whiffletrees? I caught them hoping he would quit, let me go home and throw a fit. But, no, he said, "Now, Mr. Wax, our rolling pins are crackjacks. They are the finest in the realm; they're made of solid slippery elm. Your wife will fairly shriek with glee if you should take her two or three. The Christmas time will soon be here, the time of mirth and joy and cheer; then every gentle Christian pants to please his cousins and his aunts, and he may fill their lives with grins, by sending them some rolling pins. So buy a dozen while you're here; you'll find them handy through the year."

He led me there and here and yon, and sold me jug and demijohn, and cans of fruit and sacks of meal, and things of brass and things of steel, and turnip seed and fountain pens, and heating stoves and setting hens.

And when I trotted from the store, I said, "I'll go there never more. I'll seek a merchant whose content to sell a worn and weary gent the things he asks for and desires, and who to nothing more aspires. I don't admire that salesmanship which loads a patron fore and aft, with tons of junk he doesn't need, with birds' nest soup and turnip seed, which drives him groaning from the store, and vowing he'll come back no more."—By Wall Mason from Judge.

But if a man turned over a new leaf every time his wife wanted him to be would have but little time left in which to earn the price of her bonnets.

There is no harm in a man's being in advance of his age, providing he has money enough to pay for his feed until his age catches up with him.

In this great and glorious land of the free one has to pay for the drinks in order to get a whack at the free lunch.

If the wife would practice all her husband preaches there would be fewer grounds for divorce.

There is at least one thing women can do that men can't—and that is say "goodby" gracefully.

SMITH BOYS DID IT, IS THE PLEA

BROTHERS BLAMED FOR TRAIN, BANK, AND OTHER ROBBERIES BUT ONE CHARGE UPHELD

DIG REWARDS OUT FOR THEM

Officers of Four Counties Engaged in Continuous Search and Expect No Easy Capture

Muskogee, Ok.—Officers of Muskogee, McIntosh, Haskell and Sequoyah counties are conducting an almost continuous search for Joe and Dave Smith brothers and alleged contenders for the "bad men" championship.

For each of them there is outstanding a reward of $300, offered by the American Express Co., on suspicion that they were principals in the M. K. & T. train robbery at Onapa, Ok., and Sheriff J. S. Barger has also offered a reward of $100 for Dave, who broke jail here after a jury had sentenced him and Cole Shoemaker to serve terms of seven years each in the penitentiary for robbing a drug store at Porum of less than $50, the druggist being severely beaten.

It has come to pass that almost every crime committed in this section of Oklahoma is credited to the Smith brothers, and this is generally accepted as fact by the officers for the simple reason that there seems to be nothing for the fugitives to do but dodge officers and live from day to day on the fruit of law violations. So far as can be ascertained, the boys have not slept in a bed since the night Dave escaped from the Muskogee jail. They are believed to be on horseback every day, sometimes eating at their own campfire of game they have killed, at others in the house of someone whom they know will not betray them.

In the way of ammunition and clothing, the Smiths are believed to have sufficient to last them for years. Recently a store at Webber's Falls was robbed, a large lot of ammunition and clothing being taken. The Smiths are held to have done the job.

But the officers trailing Dave and Joe Smith are not fearing surprise by them and violent death or injury. They are convinced the fugitives are guided by purpose to evade the law and not to add to their difficulties the charge of killing an officer or posseman. It is the belief of Sheriff Barger that should a lone officer encounter the brothers he would be well treated, probably fed and entertained with account of some lively experiences, but they would not harm him unless attempt were made to force them to surrender. No one, so far as known, entertains an idea that the boys will become prisoners unless surprised and overwhelmed or without being beaten in a shooting match.

Dave and Joe Smith are Muskogee county products. They hail from the southeastern part of the county and are said to be related to most of the denizens of the Kiamichi Mountain region. They are sons of Famous Smith, who himself had a record for killing men, not as a murderer, but because he reached them before they could get to him, so that his plea of self defense always had foundation.

The first charge of violence registered against the Smith brothers, so far as is recalled, arose several years ago, when Joe shot a rival for a girl's favor at a country dance.

Two years ago complaints were made to county authorities that Dave and Joe were rustling cattle from farmers. Warrants for their arrests were issued, but the arrests were not made for the reason that the boys could not be located.

Then followed the report that Dave Smith and Cole Shoemaker had entered the drug store at Porum and robbed it. This time the officers found their men, brought them to this city and the trial ended with a sentence of both to seven years in state prison. In engineering the escape in March last, Dave Smith entered the jail runway and, awaiting a moment when a guard named Payne turned his back, dealt him a blow with a flatiron.

Payne was left for dead and Smith, Shoemaker and Will Burnett, another prisoner, hastened into the jailer's office, beat him down, seized guns and fled. Outside the jail they seized a buggy and drove to the fair grounds, where they took three race horses and escaped to the Warner Bottoms. Shoemaker was recaptured after being wounded, and Burnett, whose whereabouts was disclosed by farmers, was also returned to jail. Smith has not since been a prisoner.

Nothing but suspicion exists upon which to hang the charge that Dave and Joe Smith were members of the gang of eight men who recently held up the Kety train at Onapa, but every officer who has had a part in the investigation entertains no doubt that they were, and that the express company so believes is shown by the offer of $300 reward for each of the brothers.

There also is talk that the boys have committed some of the bank robberies, which have so aroused people of the state that the legislature enacted a law offering specific rewards for capture of that class of criminal, but so far as known, as in the case of the train robbery, positive evidence is not available.

WARNS FARMERS TO TEST SEED CORN THIS YEAR

Assistant Secretary Vrooman Declares this to Be Necessary Precaution.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 22.

—Farmers who take the advice of Carl Vrooman, the assistant secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture, will test every ear of corn this year before they plant it. The seed corn situation, Mr. Vrooman says, is probably more serious now than it has been for years. On account of the late, cold season, and the heavy frosts in the early part of last October, very little corn, especially in the northern half of the corn belt, ripened naturally and at the time of the first hard frosts much of it still contained a large amount of moisture.

"Testing seed corn is always a wise precaution," said Mr. Vrooman, "but this year it is a necessary one. Every farmer should test his seed this spring by the individual ear test. No matter how much confidence you have in the man you buy seed from, make a test and know for yourself that the seed is good. If the seed is not good, you can get some other that is."

"A number of seed men who have well constructed seed houses, report that they find the early picked seed tests very satisfactorily, but the seed picked later, even if properly dried, is very unsatisfactory. One test in northeastern Nebraska showed 90 per cent of the early field-picked seed to be good while only 68 per cent of the crib-selected seed germinated. In many sections of northern Iowa and Illinois the percentage of good seed is much lower, even when the seed was picked before frost and properly dried, while seed picked from the wagon at husking time, or from the crib is practically worthless as seed. One reason for this is that many farmers in this section are raising corn of a very large variety which requires a full growing season, and this corn did not ripen before the early frosts.

"Under these circumstances, testing each ear is simply good insurance. One ear of corn will produce about five bushels—if all the grains grow. With corn at 60 cents a bushel, planting a dead ear or an ear that will produce only weak unproductive stalks, means a loss of $3. If you catch only one bad ear, your testing has paid you a good day's wages. If you catch the average number, you've saved a week's pay in a winter afternoon."

COUNTING BABIES

(By the Indiana State Board of Health)

It is more important for a state to count its babies than to count its money. It is more important for a state to count its babies than its hogs. It is more important for a state to count its babies than to count its bushels of corn. In counting our hogs, money, bushels of corn, etc., we show intelligence, but it is not intelligence which leads us to neglect counting babies. It is the opinion of all that it is wise to count our pigs for they may be sold for money, but babies won't sell for thirty cents a dozen. The state that does not count its babies is delinquent.

The Indiana law says physicians shall report the births they attend within thirty-six hours, or their bill for services becomes invalid and they are also liable to a fine of ten to fifty dollars. Every day the State Board of Health is asked for transcripts of birth certificates to be used in the courts. The mother or father who fails to see that the births of their children are recorded are probably storing up trouble for themselves and children. The doctor, who fails to record the births he attends fails in his duties to the mother and her child, fails in his duties to the law and the state, fails in his duties to the science of medicine.

The State Board of Health advises all mothers to call on their health officer and see if their babies are legally registered. If not registered then hold their doctors to strict account.

The State Board of Health sends a present to all first mothers when their babies are registered.

Why Colds are to be Dreaded.

It is not the cold itself but the serious diseases it so often leads to that makes a common cold by far the most dangerous of any of the minor ailments. The cold prepares your system for the reception and development of the germs of pneumonia, consumption, diphtheria and other germ diseases. The quicker you cure the cold the less the danger. To accomplish this, you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy most effectual. Obtainable everywhere.

Personal.

The marriage of Isaac M. Harris, of Greencastle, and Miss Lottie Mae McCreary, of Cloverdale, occurred Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the groom's parents on South College avenue. The Rev. Bert DeBeek performed the ceremony. The young couple will make their home in Greencastle.

With an expenditure of three-quarters of a million dollars to get voters to the polls, the Republican state machine succeeded in getting out about ten thousand more voters at the primary than the Democratic party, which did not spend a cent on the traveling and personal expenses of the candidates. And at Fairbanks, for president, received 35,000 fewer votes than the Republican vote of the three Republican candidates for governor.

On the eightieth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Mary Washburn Florer was held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clara Lammers, with an informal reception Saturday afternoon. Guests were intimate friends of Florer. The Lammers home was beautifully decorated in spring flow. Mrs. Florer received many beautiful remembrances. Those who attended were Mrs. J. O. Mack, Miss Lillian Southard, Miss Florer, Miss Esther Toole, Miss Scott, Miss Phoebe Furnas, Mrs. Hamrick and Mrs. C. T. Zaring.

The death of Mrs. George Obenchain, aged 68, occurred Sunday evening at near 9 o'clock, at her home in Greencastle. Mrs. Obenchain had been ill for several months. A common of diseases was the cause of death. Besides her husband, she had four sons, Oscar Obenchain, John Obenchain, Frank Obenchain, and John Obenchain, all of Putnam county, and three daughters, Mrs. Scott, of Cartersburg, Mrs. Scott, of Fincastle, and Mrs. Stewart, of Portland Mills. Obenchain of this city, was called to Greencastle Sunday morning by the illness of his mother, and with her at the time of her death.

The primary election law has come to its first trial in Indiana and is quite satisfactory, and, with alterations it will no doubt become a permanent feature of our government. The fact that it exceeds 60 per cent. of the population of the state availed themselves of the privilege is no fault of the law. There is a tendency to criticize it, but it will be remembered that in 1912 it was not until the second year after its enactment that the next legislature will correct some of the flaws in the present law, as it should, and make it apply to the nomination of all state officers.—Lebanon.

YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system is the alarm system of the human body. It is the network of nerves, but when it is out of balance, when strength is declining, when some part of the system gives the brain a message of weakness, dizziness, irritability, or unless corrected, it might lead to a breakdown.

Dr. R. Brown, of Greencastle, has been successful in what you should take; it is a remedy that gets into the blood and feeds the tiny nerve-cells while the system responds to its refreshing force. It is free from alcohol.

OBITUARY

Nancy Katherine Stultz, daughter of William and Katherine Stultz, was born January 16, 1847, died March 19, 1916, being sixty-nine years, two months and three days old.

She was married to George Henry Obenchain August 1, 1866. To this union were born seven children, William, Oscar, John, Frank, Mrs. Thomas Scott, Mrs. Omar Scott, and Mrs. Clay Stewart, all of whom are living.

Besides the seven children, she leaves a husband, twenty-six grandchildren, seven great grandchildren, three brothers, four sisters, and many other relatives and friends to mourn her loss.

Aunt Kate, as she was familiarly called, was born and lived her entire life in this immediate neighborhood. She was a patient and loving wife, a kind and indulgent mother, and a peaceful and obliging neighbor. She was highly respected by all who knew her and her life of patience and kindness will ever be a sweet memory to her relatives and friends.

HOW ANTS MAKE THEIR TOILET.

Movements Carried On During Sleep and Waking Hours.

During sleep the ant's body is quite still. Occasionally may be noted a regular lifting up and setting down of the forefeet, one leg after another, with almost rhythmic motion. The antennae also have a gentle, quivering, apparently involuntary movement, almost like breathing. The soundness of slumber was frequently proved by "applying" the feather end of a quill. The feather tip is lightly drawn along the back stroking "with the fur." There is no motion. Again and again this action is repeated, the stroke being made gradually heavier. Still there is no change. The strokes are directed upon the head, with the same result. Then the feather is applied to the neck with a waving motion intended to tickle it. The ant remains motionless. Finally the sleeper is aroused by a sharp touch of the quill. She stretches out her head, then the legs, which she shakes also; steps nearer to the light, yawns and begins to comb her antennae and brush her head and mouth. Then she clambers over her sleeping comrades, dives into an open gangway and soon has said "Good morning" to another tour of duty. Be it well noted, however, that she has gone to work, as she and all her fellows always do, not only rested, but with her person perfectly clean!

WHY FRUITS COOL THE BLOOD.

Due to Large Amount of Citric Acid They Contain.

In health the temperature of the blood is constant, and even when spots and rashes appear on the skin, there is no departure from the normal temperature unless there is a cause for fever, such as blood-poisoning, the invasion of some microbe or serious disturbance of the nervous system. In fevers, when the temperature of the blood is raised, vegetables are never given, as they would not cool the blood, but might help to heat it.

Some fruits have cooling properties, as they contain citric acid, and this forms citrates in the blood and increases the perspiration. In serious fevers, however, it is much safer to give measured quantities of citrates to produce this effect than to trust to the uncertain action of fruit.

Fruit and vegetables are antiscorbutics—that is to say, they are opposed to scurvy. The primary cause of this disease is not clearly understood, but it is immediately due to an absence of these wholesome constituents from the diet. The flushing of the skin, with spots and rashes, popularly called "heating of the blood," is relieved and efface matter is eliminated by their use. Hence the popular phrase that "they cool the blood."

Roads By Light of a Sausage.

Professor Hans Mollisch of Prague, according to the London Mail, has been able to read a newspaper by the microbe glow emanating from a sausage.

All meat—beef as often as in fifty-two cases out of 100 and veal in fifty-two of 100—contains the microbe, which projects a greenish-white light. With sausages it is not so frequent, but is, when present, stronger. When the fat on the luminous sausage was scraped away it immediately ceased to give forth light, but as soon as the surface had again been covered by the fat oozing from the interior the light reappeared.

Professor Mollisch asserts that the presence of these microbes in meat is no sign of decay, but rather the contrary, as in no case have they been found in meat unfit for human consumption.

The Miner's Will.

An addition to the literature of curious wills comes from the Arctic goldfields of Canada. A miner died at the head waters of the Stewart River in the Yukon territory. On a piece of birch bark he wrote his last testament, bequeathing his valuable claims on the river to his nieces. A companion who was with him in his last moments said, "We had no paper, and so the man wrote his will on a piece of bark, and a friend and I signed as witnesses."—Exchange.

Loneliest Railway Station.

ENTRY OF HAYS ADDS FUEL TO G.O.P. FLAME

HARRY NEW-DELANVAN SMITH CROWD IS JOINED BY STATE CHAIRMAN OF PARTY—THREE WANT SENATORSHIP NOMINATION—SAME CROWD LED TO DISRUPTION OF NATIONAL ORGANIZATION IN 1912.

DELEGATES ARE HOUNDED

Latest developments have lifted the curtain on what promises to be one of the most spectacular fights in the history of Indiana politics, and one that gives great promise of further disrupting the G. O. P.—the battle between "Jim" Watson and "Will" Hays for nomination for Shively's vacant seat in the United States Senate.

No sooner had the news of the senator's dramatic death been flashed over the wires than the New-Smith faction began to figure out how they could again beat Watson out of a nomination. It did not matter to them if Watson did go into the Chicago convention in 1912 and throw out the Progressive delegates, something that they tried to do and couldn't, or if he did carry the state in the recent primary outside of Marion county. Watson might have been given some consideration since there are now two nominations to be filled if it had not been for Hays. Hays wants the nomination, and Hays has been backing the New-Smith organization, so why should Watson be given a look-in?

From now on until the time for the state convention, party delegates will be hounded by the forces of each candidate. It will be up to them to prove themselves the best little pacifists that ever entered the halls of a Republican convention.

At the Watson headquarters, it is said that Watson will be nominated no matter who may be the second man. Instead of two senatorial nominations clearing the atmosphere, it seems that they have only made things worse and more complicated, and that a fight is culminating that is going to make the internal strife of the party something that will not heal.

While Goodrich is trying to keep out of the senatorial muck the chances are that he will be forced to declare himself at least far enough to invite opposition from one faction or another.

The Watson followers declare that if Watson gets on the floor of the convention, as he of course will do, nothing can beat him.

And they do say that the famous speech of Will Hays, describing the Republican machine of Indiana as "that aristocracy of intellect and character" will not be likely to carry the convention on its feet. Still it is predicted that Harry S. New may be third in the race, and that Watson and Hays may be the nominees.

In the meantime Governor Ralston and the Democratic leaders have not even discussed the naming of a successor to Senator Shively, even among themselves. He will be named in due time, and, if nominated, will be returned to the senate at the general election next fall.

Poor Old Jim Watson.

Poor old Jim Watson! If the signs of the times are correct, it is the jungle for him, politically speaking. It was Jim who stood by the Grand Old Party in those tearful days of 1912; it was Jim who stood on the deck of the sinking craft and held the elephant's front extension out of the muddy waters while floats were made to raise the menagerie cages; it was Jim who preached the doctrine of standpatism when standpatters dared not peep over the trench, even with a periscope; it was Jim who clung to the faith of the fathers, and kept the craft of the G. O. P. from turning turtle in the turbulent waters that collected the Old Guard after the disastrous battle of Armageddon and lent hope to the tattered remnants of special privilege, for which Republicanism stands; it was Jim who prevented the bringing forth into the world of a hybrid by a mating of elephant and the bull moose principles; it was Jim who stood forth for an unconditional surrender of the Moosers, even to eating out of the standpat hand. Now that it has been in a measure consummated and the standpatters are in control of the entire organization, they will have none of Jim. He was a good fellow for holding out for the principles of his party while down on his back in the ditch, with the party and the principles under him, but since the pressure has been removed, and the keen appetite restored—well, that's different. Jim made a spectacular fight for the nomination of senator against the wishes and open opposition of the organization and carried the majority of the counties of the state. The vote in such towns as Indianapolis, Terre Haute, Ft. Wayne and others where the organization was able to run things, resulted in his falling short of the long end of the vote. But if Indianapolis alone was eliminated, Watson would be on top, and it was in Indianapolis where the organization had the smoothest running. When Jim first announced his candidacy, the organization figured that he was entirely discredited by the voters of the state, but they got an awful scare before the campaign wound up. Immediately following the primary, they announced that Jim was out of it, but he came back with a statement that he would carry the fight to the convention. This riled the organization for fair, and now they are planning a Siberian trip for Jimmy. The death of Senator Shively may seem to have opened a way for them to pacify Jim, and at the same time not put New, the special pet of the organization, in jeopardy. But no! Jim was slated to walk the plank, and walk the plank he must if the organization has anything to do with it; and for a certainty it has. They express the deepest surprise over Watson being mentioned as the nominee for the short term. "Never heard Watson was a candidate for Shively's place," is the way they put it. Will Hays, Republican chairman, will be given that nomination if the organization can put it across, and Jim will be left to meditate over the uncertainty of life and the certainty of a kick in the slats for the Goliath who stood pat when the standing was bad.—Danville Gazette.

WOULD INTEREST FARMERS IN GROWING OF TOMATOES

An effort is being made by Sherman Christie, of Danville, to interest the farmers of this county in growing tomatoes for the commercial market. Mr. Christie says he would be willing to contract for the tomatoes from 200 acres of ground, and that he will pay a good price for the product. Tomatoes are now selling at $9.00 a ton. It is believed that the crop could be grown with great success in this community. Mr. Christie will return to Greencastle soon, to confer further with landowners of the county in the matter.

TIGHTENS O SCHOOL TEACHER.

STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION RECOMMENDS INCREASED TRAINING FOR APPLICANTS FOR COMMON SCHOOL LICENSES—TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS MUST NOT TEACH MORE THAN TWO YEARS' WORK.

PENALTIES ARE PROVIDED

Charles A. Greathouse, state superintendent of public instruction, has addressed a letter to school officials throughout Indiana in which it is stated that the state board of education at its meeting on March 9 and 10 took three definite actions which will affect the teachers in the township, certified and commissioned high schools of the state.

One resolution which was passed and which will become effective in October of this year requires that teachers in non-commissioned high schools shall not be required to teach more than two years work during the school year. This action will have its greatest effect upon the township high schools, several of which are located in Putnam county.

If a trustee requires or permits any teacher to attempt to teach more than two years' work the pupils of the school will not be allowed advanced standing in the certified and commissioned high school except upon a thorough examination on all subjects for which credit is desired. It is further specified that any certified or commissioned high school that violates the resolution by allowing credit shall forfeit its certificate or commission.

The board also will recommend to the next state legislature that applicants for one year teacher's licenses shall have completed their high school work and 36 weeks training in an accredited college or normal school, and applicants for two year licenses shall have completed 72 weeks training in accredited institutions. The educational law now in force only requires 12 weeks training for a one year license.

Furthermore, the board recommends that grade teachers in elementary schools where the high schools are certified or commissioned, should have one year of approved professional training after graduation from a commissioned high school.

WILLIAM JAMISON'S HOME IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

The home of William Jamison, on Fox Ridge, was totally destroyed by fire Saturday afternoon. The entire roof was ablaze before the fire was discovered. The flames had gained such headway that all effort to extinguish them were futile, and the entire building soon was a mass of flames. Only a few of the contents of the home were saved. The cause of the fire is not known.

Sillery Marriage Annuled

William Sillery, a local barber, was given a divorce from Della Sillery in circuit court Saturday. Judgment was by default, Mrs. Sillery failing to appear and answer to the charges preferred against her. The complaint for divorce was filed by Mr. Sillery a short time ago, just ten days following the marriage ceremony. Mrs. Sillery lived in Indianapolis.

Charles A. Dobbs has contracted for the agency of the Oakland automobile in Putnam county, for the coming year. The first consignment of four cars will be shipped in a few days. The Gardner room, on the northeast corner of the square, has been secured by Mr. Dobbs, and will shortly be put in condition for a sales room. Oakland parts and accessories will be carried in stock.

2843 ACCIDENTAL INJURIES DURING MONTH OF FEBRUARY

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 16.—There were 2843 accidental injuries to employees reported to the state industrial board of the month of February. Of these twenty accidents resulted fatally, and there were forty-nine in which there was a loss of members. The total amount paid in compensation during February was $25,050.92.

In the classification of injuries by industries, steam roads lead the list with 300. Iron and steel industries claimed 263, and the automobile manufacturers reported 244. There were 445 persons struck by falling objects, and second in this classification were the 225 persons who were "caught between doors." This is probably a sport peculiar to winter and the revolving storm doors are responsible. In the safety first crusades there should have been some education against "dropping objects" for this one carelessness was responsible for 222 injuries in February.

One of the causes of accident which has claimed a large space in the figures each month has been from stepping on nails. The fact that so many of these accidents have occurred, and some resulted in death, seems to have caused some caution. There were but forty-four of these in the February report.

Less than $10 a week was the wage of 355 of the men injured; 1971 received from $10 to $20 a week; 230 more than $20; highest wage $75 a week; lowest wage $3; average wage $13.68. The average wage of the persons injured in all the reports since the board began its work has been within a few cents of that named in February, and the minimum has always been $3 a week.

Of the men injured in February, 17 were under 16 years of age; 1289 were from 16 to 30 years; 746 from 30 to 40; 420, 40 to 50; 198 from 50 to 60; 77 from 60 to 70; 5 over 70. The age limit runs somewhat higher than usually shown. There were 1149 cases in which the disability was for less than 14 days, and no compensation required. Only 104 reported more than 14 days from employment.

Women and girls injured numbered thirty-one. The highest wage reported was $18, and the average $6.70. The ages ranged from 15 to 53 years. There were thirteen under 18 years; 13 from 18 to 30; 4 over 30.

The ages of the twenty persons killed ranged from 15 to 67 years. There were 3 under 21; 4 from 21 to 30; 9 from 30 to 50; 4 over 60. Five fatal cases were settled in February. One case the dependents will receive $2.88 for 300 weeks; 2 receive $5.50 for 300 weeks; 1 receives $10.50 for 300 weeks; 1 receives $10.83 for 300 weeks.

Of the 680 agreements approved during February, 601 were for disability, and 53 for dismemberment. In the dismemberment cases the allowance ranged from $5.50 to $13.20 per week. The time allowance was from 15 to 150 weeks. In the disability allowances, the time extended from 15 to 112 days, and the average was 30 days. There are at present under compensation, 929 cases receiving an average of $7.47 per week, and a total of $6,940.96 per week. Twenty-eight per cent receive the minimum of $5.50 per week, and 5.4 per cent receive the maximum of $13.20.

There were 503 cases finally closed in February, and during the month, employers paid on the closed cases, $10,463.14; on the cases still pending they paid $14,587.78; total paid to employees in February, $25,050.92.

ADAIR, IMPROVED, EXPECTS TO RETURN SOON FOR CAMPAIGN

(By Willis S. Thompson)

INDIANAPOLIS, March 20.—It is expected that Congressman John A. M. Adair will soon be able to return to Indiana and resume his campaign as the democratic candidate for governor. As the result of his strenuous work of traveling and speaking day and night during the final weeks of the primary contest, he contracted a severe cold, which threatened pneumonia and was forced to his bed at Portland several days before he returned to Washington. When he reached the capitol to resume his duties in the congress, his physicians ordered him to the hospital. He is improving speedily, and regaining his strength.

Congressman Adair is anxious to get into the state campaign. He has expressed his purpose to go to every city, town, hamlet, community and crossroads to meet the people and make speeches. It is his belief that where two or three people can be gathered together to reason in matters, political, it is worth the while of the candidate to be there. The two or three are sure to go and tell it to others.

That John Adair is an effective campaigner is shown in his several congressional fights in the eight districts. When he was first nominated by the Democrats of his district as their candidate for congress, he did not know the people to whom his name must be presented. He had always had the highest regard for the opinions of the American people, however, and he believed that if a man had a message and would go to these people and let them know he could usually be assured that their verdict would be right. He believed he had a message, he went and told the people, met them at large and small meetings, and when he concluded his campaign he had transformed one of the strongest Republican districts of the state into a Democratic majority.

He has been elected five successive times to that seat in congress and has made the eighth such a strong Democratic district that it is always sure to return a Democratic majority for the whole state ticket. It is so strong that Auditor of State Dale Crittenger always refers to it as the militant Democratic district of Indiana, challenging even some of those districts where the Republicans do not cast enough votes to make it worth while wasting a tally sheet to count.

John Adair is especially interested and enthusiastic over the outlook for success of the Democratic party in Indiana this year. He never gets filled with enthusiasm without assigning his reasons. He believes in this instance that the popularity of President Wilson will cause him to lead the state by tremendous majority over any candidate the opposition can possibly find. He has several reasons for this belief. He has campaigned in more than sixty of the counties, and has made it his business to do some extensive inquiring. While he decided that the people were with Wilson long before the primary vote was cast, an analysis of that vote is the strongest evidence in the world that John Adair was right. While the Republicans spent in their several campaigns, not a penny less than $750,000 to get out their full vote, and while all the candidates and the organizations that spent the money were for Charles Warren Fairbanks, and while all the Republican press of the state advocated the same presidential choice Mr. Fairbanks with all this support, and all this expense to get out the vote had but 176,000 votes. The Democrats did not spend a cent save what was spent by John Adair and Leonard Clore in traveling about the state to make speeches. Not a cent was paid for election day workers or for workers preceding election day to get out the vote. Yet 160,000 people went to the polls on election day with no urging or insistence from any source, and voted for Woodrow Wilson.

But even stronger than the national administration record is that of the state administration. The last few years of Democratic rule in all the state offices, and of Democratic majorities in the general assembly, there has been more progressive legislation, and more progressive steps have been taken in all departments than in any thirty years combined since Indiana became a state. All these progressive steps will be taken up individually and discussed during the campaign, but the beauty of them all is that they came so close to the home in each instance that the people understand them now.

There is hardly a person in the state that does not now know that the state finance board, consisting of Governor Ralston, Auditor Dale Crittenger, and Treasurer George A. Bittler, recently paid off the last penny of more than two million dollars of state debts.

WHY WOMEN WRITE LETTERS

To Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co.

Women who are well often ask "Are the letters which the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. are continually publishing, genuine?" "Are they truthful?" "Why do women write such letters?"

In answer we say that never have we published a fictitious letter or name. Never, knowingly, have we published an untruthful letter, or one without the full and written consent of the woman who wrote it.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and suffering. It has relieved women from some of the worst forms of female ills, from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, nervousness, weakness, stomach troubles and from the blues.

It is impossible for any woman who is well and who has never suffered to realize how these poor, suffering women feel when restored to health; their keen desire to help other women who are suffering as they did.

which the Republicans had accumulated while in office, and which had been left for the Democrats to pay. That a large part of the debt which the Democrats have paid was not due until 1937, which is twenty-one years in the future.

It is because of all these things combined that John A. M. Adair says "Republicans can not tell me that when the people are shown all these things just as they exist that any voters are going to find any reasonable excuse for voting anything but the Democratic ticket. We will win because we deserve it, and because the people want us to win."

FRAT TAX CASE IS SIMPLIFIED

DISMISSAL OF COMPLAINT AGAINST TAX COMMISSIONER AND OTHER STATE OFFICIALS BY COUNTY ATTORNEY CLEARS DECKS FOR TRIAL OF MUCH MOOTED QUESTION—WILL COME UP SOON.

EDITOR THE DEFENDANT

With the withdrawal of the complaint against the state board of tax commissioners, and the filing of an amended complaint in which county auditor Joe M. Allen is made the defendant, county attorney Gillen has simplified matters greatly in the case of the Phi Kappa Psi home association of DePauw University by non-payment of taxes for a period of ten years past, and cleared the way for an early trial of the controversy.

The amended complaint is in relation of the state and county commissioner, Charles W. Daggy, asking that Mr. Allen be mandated to place the fraternity property on the tax duplicates. A similar complaint was made several days ago, but it hinged upon an earlier one which included the tax commissioners and other state officials as defendants.

The reason for the action taken by Mr. Gillen is that fewer objections can be made to the amended complaint, and that the case can be brought to trial sooner than otherwise would have been possible. It is believed the Judge Hughes will be ready to hear the case before many days.

Tin Can Menace to Health.

Who would have thought that the tin can is a menace to the public health? The expert malaria investigators of the United States Public Health Service have found, however, that discarded tin cans containing rain water are breeding places for the mosquito which is the sole agent in spreading malaria. A hole in the bottom of the empty can might have resulted in the saving of a human life. Certainly it would have assisted in preventing a debilitating illness. Empty tin cans have no business about the premises anyway, but we must so decorate our back yards let's see to it that the can has a hole in the bottom.

OBITUARY

In the midst of human events are constantly reminded of the facts of death, and are forced to record the Obituary of Nancy J. Sanders, daughter of Henry and M. Sanders. She was born near Maysville, Putnam county, Ind.,

11, 1843; and departed this life March 16, 1916, being 72 years, 7 months and 5 days old at the time of her death.

She was united in marriage to James William Hargan December 1861. To this union were born daughters, Mrs. Emma Carpenter, Colburn, Ind., and Mrs. Cora E. Hicks, of New Maysville. The deceased leaves an afflicted husband who has ministered to her every want for period of 55 years.

She leaves two daughters, brothers and four sisters, eight children, twelve great grand children, a host of other relatives and friends to mourn her.

The life of Aunt Nan, as she was formerly called, was an open book all who knew her. She was a woman, perfectly honorable and in her home social and business, she will always be remembered for her untiring efforts to aid the distressed and especially to care for the sick. She will be missed by all who knew her, especially by her husband and grandchildren to whom her death is an instant loss her earth, but heaven is a gain.

Today we view her face in the pages of death, reminded of those words:

"We know not the day nor the wherein the Son of Man cometh member dear friends as you pass."

"As you are now so once we are I am now, you soon shall be near for death and follow me."

Sadly, so sadly, we lay her to rest. Surely tis God that always is best;

Yet we shall miss her loved form dear face,

In each well known and familiar place,

Friends and loved ones around still form,

Gather in silence to shed their warm.

Neighbors, her loss felt deeply mourn,

Knowing with patience life's dens were borne.

Gladly, yes gladly, we think it all of life's sufferings and at last.

For she has left her frail body and gone to the eternal that are fairer than day.

Wearing the crown of the right and blest,

There, in the land where the find rest.
